

NedBank IT Learnerships

NedBank invites unemployed youth to apply for IT Learnership Programme 2024 / 2025.

Learnership Application Closing Date: 11 November 2024

Learnership Location: Johannesburg, Gauteng, South Africa

Our Cloud learnership programme offers participants the chance to gain practical experience and develop skills in cloud computing, DevOps, FinOps, cloud architecture, and site reliability engineering. These disciplines are essential for preparing individuals for entry-level careers in the rapidly expanding technology sector.

The learnership includes comprehensive training in both technical and soft skills, mentorship to support personal and professional growth, and real-world exposure to help participants develop their capabilities and launch their careers.

What you'll do:

- Grow your career. Take advantage of training and development opportunities.
- Self-manage like a pro. Take charge of your tasks and continuously improve.
- Grow your personal brand. Develop your funky style to make a sizzle in the professional world.
- Be a team player. Help us hit our goals and make the department shine.
- Nail your tasks. Complete assignments on time and with pizzazz.
- Quality over quantity. Deliver top-notch work that meets our high standards.
- Stay in the know. Keep up with industry changes and company blueprints.
- Innovate. Suggest cool ideas to make our ways of working even better.
- Get involved. Participate in our culture-building and social responsibility initiatives.
- Be resilient. Stay positive, learn from failures, and keep pushing forward.

Requirements:

- Education: Matric + Certification, Diploma or Degree in IT or a related field (like engineering).

Experience: 0 – 1 year of work experience.

Skills and Competencies: Microsoft Office, data analysis, problem-solving, continuous learning, curiosity, creativity, adaptability, and a knack for understanding administrative systems. Coding and programming skills will be advantageous.
